THE ORANGEBURG NEWS.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1867.

While we reserve to ourselves the right of defining our own political position by means of our editorial columns, we will be pleased to publish contributions from our fellow-citizens upon th grave questions which now agitate the public mind, whether their opinions coincide with ours or not. A district newspaper, we consider, should be an index of the various shades of pop. ular sentiment in the section of country in which it circulates. Our columns are open, therefore, for any communications properly written, accom panied by a responsible name, not personal in their character, nor absolutely injurious in their

The White People of the South.

On our first page will be found an article entitled "A few common sense views for colored people." It is taken from the Norfolk Journal, where it was published by the Conservative Committee, a few days before the Virginia elections. It sets forth clearly the position taken by the white people of that State towards the blacks: and is identically the attitude assumed by the best citizens of this District, at a meeting held about six months ago, when a circular was issued, proposing a platform for a Conservative party in South Carolina.

At that time, there was an expectation of a fair administration of the Reconstruction Acts under which, harsh and unconstitutional as they are, the intelligent portion of our people would have had some little showing. It was also hoped, that a number of the colored people would be sensible enough to appreciate the good will of their former masters, who, in that platform, tendered them full equality before

But these hopes and expectations have been disappointed. The Reconstruction Acts have been made more proscriptive than their infamous originators ever intended, by a partisan construction of every clause, sentence and word therein. The carrying out of the Congressional programme has been made to subserve the vilest political purposes. The negroes, too, puffed up with new ideas of "forty-acre" free dom, have repudiated with contempt the friendy proffers of the whites, and prefer to take their own course, not satisfied with "equality before the link," but grasping after NEGRO SUPREMACY. This being the case, a new policy is the only course left for the intelligent people of our State. A farmer in the Fork, with his wife and four children able to work, but all young. had 200 bushels of rice to sell, 4 large bales of Cotton, and provisions to last for two years, without any assistance of freedmen, and consequently no division of crops. Another with his wife and two children, made four bales of cotton, rice to sell, and plenty of provisions. This gentleman rented a part of his land of the same quality to a family of negroes, the same size as his own; and gave them the same use of horsepower and implements as he himself enjoyed: and the negroes managed it according to their own ideas, without dictation from him: and they did not make more than enough to last them till Christmas. Another living below Orangeburg, a mechanic, devoted himself to his trade last year, and hired freedmen. The result was, that all the money he made at the trade, went to make up his losses on the and with two children, he has so well succeeded, that he has fer sale 200 bushels Rice, four bales Cotton, has made 52 bushels of Wheat, and plenty of Corn, Potatocs and other pro-
